

Cyclops Optimizer

Automated price optimizer for best underlying combinations

Cyclops, our automated email parsing service for structured investments, provides automatic pricing and documentation services for users across both a range of pay-offs and a broad universe of underlying exposures. In addition to these established services, Cyclops provides an OPTIMIZATION feature that enables users to quickly identify combinations of underlyings that will, everything else being equal, provide the most attractive variations of the structured investment.

How does it work?

Users of Cyclops Optimizer will receive for every optimizing request:

1. The 5 top optimization suggestions, along with pricing and documentation (if needed)
2. Other potential attractive baskets

Cyclops Optimizer is able to provide price optimization across a number of payoffs comparing up to 1,000 possible combinations in a matter of minutes. More information on our email pricing capabilities here.

How can I access the Cyclops Optimizer?
